PROFILE

Community-led youth development leader with hands-on experience building and running a vocational skills training centre from the ground up, in one of Uganda's largest refugee-hosting districts. Progressed from Financial Clerk to Managing Director and Registrar of a training centre, then led the process of registering that work as a formally recognised, women-led Community-Based Organisation. Personal experience of losing both parents at seven and an interrupted university education directly shapes a commitment to building practical, dignified pathways for young mothers, school dropouts, and young people living with disabilities.
